AMUSEMENTS

Mr. Paul Gilmore in the Play That Made Him Famous.

"The Mummy and the Humming Bird," one of the most noted plays and which is now in its 10th successful season, will come to Holland's Opera House shortly.

The play itself has an unusual plot and a strikingly startling bit of dramatic work introduced in the first act when Lord Lumley invites an Italian organ-grinder to dine with him and induces the latter to tell his story, though neither understands the language of the other.

A well balanced company has been selected which is headed by Mr. Paul Gilmore, who is playing the leading character, Lord Lumley. "The Mummy." The attraction is one of the best that will be seen in this city this season.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Six Pools Sold.

The six pools of tobacco in the Farmers' Union, on this side of Cumberland river, were bought last Monday by Mr. W. M. Hancock, of Hopkinsville, for the American Snuff Co. The six pools embrace from 650,000 to 700,000 pounds of tobacco, and the average price of the entire purchase will be about $8.15 per hundred.—Cadiz Record.

The Men Who Succeed.

As heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order.
"Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga., "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters,

A Splendid Tonic

Corn, Ky.—Mrs. Iva Moore, of this place, says: "I was so weak, I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefited by the timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Cardai. Purley vegetable, mild, but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and strengthens weak women.
It is certainly worth a trial. Your druggist sells Cardui.

The National For March.

There is something bold and attractive in the cover page of the March National that inspires one with the very temperament and spirit of the month named in honor of the Roman war-god. The sturdy sailor on the fore-castle by the wind lass is a splendid reproduction of the type of sailor of the bygone days when the American flag was found on every sea where civilized commerce or remunerative employment could be found.

There is the usual flashlight on affairs at Washington, calling attention to the fact that the next March winds that blow will witness another inauguration at Washington.
The opening of Presidential headquarters and the clearing of the decks for the campaign of 1912 are described by the editor, Joe Chapple, who seems to be here, there and everywhere—wherever there is a breath of political air stirring.

The remarkable serial, "The Minor-Chord," the story of an American prima donna, continues in this issue.
The fiction for the month is an especially strong feature.

Two Hundred Cities in Revolt.

The most remarkable political fact of the last decade is the rapidity with which American cities are changing their form of government.

Twelve years ago Galveston, Tex., was practically wiped out by a tidal wave. When the waters receded they left the island covered with wreckage, slime and debt. But that tidal wave wiped out more than a single city! It swept away—though no one dreamed of it at the time—the city boss and the corrupt politician from hundreds of American municipalities.

Galveston was left broken and bankrupt. The work of reconstruction—the great problem of making the city safe—called for the best efforts of the strongest and ablest men. It was no job for gang politicians, such as had ruled and despoiled the city—in alliance with big business—during the old days. In their extremity, the people of the city called upon the legislature and the Governor of the state to help them. They asked that the old form of city government be suspended and that a commission of five strong men be appointed, who should have absolute charge of every department of the city government.

So—with no idea of forever ending the rule of the Boss—did Commission Government come into existence.

The governor's commission took hold of their great task like men.
For two years they labored mightily, while the old politicians sulked and growled and starved. Then there came a chance for the politicians to take the whole question into the courts. The courts decided that because a majority of the commission was appointed by the Governor, the whole body and its work was unconstitutional. Whereupon the people rose in their wrath and elected the same five commissioners by a vote that buried the gangsters deeper than the tidal wave.

So the original "commission" became a purely popular and elective body, though the name—now a complete misnomer—has stuck. It was five years before the Galveston antitoxin for the city boss disease began to take. Houston, watching with jealous eyes the rebirth and rapid growth of its sister city, was the first to follow Galveston's example, and on the heels of Houston came revolution.

Between January 1, 1906, and February 1, 1912, no less than 186 American cities scattered through 33 states, adopted the commission form of government.

More than two hundred other municipalities are now seriously considering the adoption of the Commission and the "Galveston idea," while not adopted in its entirety, has materially affected the form of government in such great cities as Boston and Pittsburgh.

The essential features of the Galveston or Commission form of city administration are these:

1. All power and responsibility must be centered in and confined to a small council or commission, usually of five members, who, by themselves or through their own appointees, pass all city ordinances, enforce them, and administer all city affairs. This commission is the city government.
2. The members of the commission must be elected from the city at large and not as representing any ward or district.
3. The members of the commission must be the only elective officers of the city (with the possible exception of an auditor or school board) and must have the power to appoint all the subordinate administrative officials.
4. The commission must have the power to remove at will any or all of the officials it has appointed. In this way only can the commission, itself, be held directly responsible for results by the people of the city.

The initiative, referendum and recall, while they form part of the character in most commission-governed cities, are not an essential part of the plan.—Henry M. Hyde in April Technical World Magazine.

Maxim Criticises.

Hudson Maxim, while visiting the Carnegie mills at Pittsburgh, declared that armor plate is no better today than cheese for naval vessels. He said that by 1920 we will have cruisers traveling forty miles an hour with sixteen inch guns mounted on decks and that with such craft armor plate is not alone useless, but a hindrance. "The United States battleships can today fire shells which penetrate any known armor plate and explode after passing within a ship. Then what is the use of armor plate? The government knows this. All progressive governments admit the truth of it," added the inventor.

Pretty Sure.

If a man who has a product of his own to sell can continue to think well of it after he has interviewed two or three people who are trying to keep him from finding out that they really want to buy it, he is pretty sure to possess the elements of success.

"LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS"

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all, to
